

Epitome : International Journal of Multidisciplinary Research

ISSN : 2395-6968

IMPORTANCE OF EDUCATION: A STUDY OF DALIT LITERATURE WRITERS
Dr. NARENDRA JADHAV'S OUTCASTE: A MEMOIR, URMILA PAWAR'S AAYDAN, DAYA PAWAR'S BALUTA AND Y.B SATHYANARAYAN'S MY FATHER BALIAH

Manisha B. Suryawanshi

Research Scholar

Dr. B. A.M. University, Aurangabad.

Email: suryawanshimanisha319@gmail.com

Dr. Sandip Krishna Kotkar

Asst. Professor,

J.N.E. College Aurangabad,

MGM University, Aurangabad.

Email: kotkarsandip1786@gmail.com

ABSTRACT

Dalit literature is not just a literature about the poverty and suffering. It is also about the struggle of dalit people to live with self-respect and get education which was denied to them for centuries. Due to the influence of Dr. Ambedkar they learn about the importance of education and determined to teach their children no matter how hard they have to work for it. Writers like Dr. Narendra Jadhav, Urmila Pawar, Daya Pawar and Y.B Sathyanarayan in their book written about their struggle to get education and to live with self-respect life. In their work, they describe in detail the challenges they experienced in obtaining an education and how they eventually succeeded. Many individuals, including themselves, find inspiration in their work. The value of education in the lives of Dalit authors is highlighted in this study.

KEY WORDS

Dalit, Education, Struggle, Success